

Oireachtas Rince na hÉireann 2018

Pre-paid Entrance Fee per Family

A Chairde,

A pre-paid family entrance fee has been introduced for all competitors at Oireachtas Rince na hÉireann 2018. This will allow entry to the event for all attendees for the entire duration of the Oireachtas. There will be no additional fees payable at the door. Programmes will be on sale as normal.

Please see the frequently asked questions below which may assist in any queries you might have.

Q: A dancer travelling to the Oireachtas alone, are they required to pay the family entrance fee?

A: Yes

Q: If family members are only attending to watch one competition on one day, is the fee applicable?

A: Yes

Q: Are siblings who are competing required to pay the €40 with each entry?

A: No, only one payment of €40 is required per family for admission along with the standard entry fee.

Q: Are registered teachers' children who are competing required to pay the admission fee?

A: No

Q: If a dancer refuses to pay the €40 additional admission fee, will their entry be accepted to compete?

A: No, entries received without the admission fee will be refused.

Q: Will there be an opportunity to pay admission on the day of competition?

A: No, there will be no facility to pay admission at the event.

Please note that entry fees are not refundable after the closing date as per the syllabus.

Is mise le meas

James McCutcheon

Cathaoirleach An Coiste Oireachtas